

Construction Site Safety Inspections

SAFETY & ENVIRONMENTAL CONSULTING LTD

At the forefront of construction site safety

Site safety inspections...

Independent Site Safety Inspections are an effective method of monitoring site safety and identifying hazardous conditions and infringements. They are an excellent approach to active monitoring of health and safety performance and help to ensure that deficiencies are identified and remedied before accidents, ill health or enforcement action occurs.

Site safety inspections can be tailored to your individual requirements; however, in general they aim to look at a site's health and safety paperwork, its welfare facilities, and to appraise health and safety standards through the observation of construction activities and site conditions.

A great service at a great price...

At Safety & Environmental Consulting Ltd we aim is to improve construction safety standards and awareness throughout the industry. As site safety inspections are a really effective method of monitoring and improving site safety, we provide this service at great rates so that our clients can commission regular and thorough inspections.

All our Inspections are undertaken by highly qualified and experienced Health and Safety advisors who are holders of Health and Safety Manager CSCS Cards, allowing them access to Major Contractors Group sites and other mandatory CSCS card sites. They will always discuss any issues that are found on site in a constructive manner and aim to offer practical advice on how improvements can be made.

Inspections are followed up with a written report which can be emailed or posted within 24 hours.
